

ABOUT RCRC, INC.

Redlands Charitable Resources Coalition, Inc., is a 501 (c) (3) non-profit charitable organization that began as a task force in 2004, grew to a coalition in 2013, and became an official non-profit in 2017.

Our mission is to connect social service agencies, faith-based organizations, government entities, and concerned citizens to create ongoing collaborative action to address critical community needs.

We accomplish our mission by gathering monthly to inform, educate, and equip community services and faith-based organizations about such issues as food and housing insecurity, seasonal shelter, education access, employment assistance and mental/medical/dental health.

Our website, rcrchelp.com, and our semi-annual publication, Guide to Local Resources, are links to community resources and foster engagement with all levels of government.

RCRC connects local providers of assistance to the homeless by connecting funding opportunities, publicizing strategies and best practices, providing food assistance when local emergencies require it, providing scholarships to local at-risk youth, facilitate volunteer opportunities, conduct educational forums and town hall meetings about local social issues, coordinate actions that improve the health of all segments of our community.
